Lowndesville Happenings.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place in the Presbyterian Church, Lowndesville, S. C., Feb. 24, 1898.

Mr. Asa C. Pressley, from our sister State, crossed the Savannah and here was one of Carolina's fairest daughters, Miss Emma Gertrude Clinkscapes. At 10 o'clock a. m. the bridal party repaired to the home of Mr. C. C. Clinkscapes and partook of an English breakfast.

The party arrived at the Church at 12 m. The ushers Mr. Jell Brown and Mr. Ezekiel Clinkscapes had comfortably seated a full house who anxiously awaited the coming of the bride.

The Church was artistically decorated. Evergreens, banked with ferns, formed a pleasing background, while the cedar and parlors of ivy were gracefully festooned above the pulpit. The green was relieved by golden Chinese lanterns interspersed with vases. While the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth under the touch of Miss Annie Arnold, the following couples entered the Church, proceeded down the aisle, and grouped themselves in a semi-circle around the altar: Mr. J. K. Allen and Miss Mae R. Johnston, Mr. J. E. Henry and Miss Lela Johnson, Mr. W. M. Speer and Miss Annie B. Jaki, Mr. Ernest Turner and Miss Eva Wakefield, Mr. Lloyd Moorhead and Miss Lizzie B. Pressley, Mr. W. L. Swift and Miss D. Shannon.

Then followed the two little flower girls, Emma Mae Moorhead and El. Louise Harper, who strewed violets in the path of the bride. Next came the bride with her bridesmaid, Miss Zula A. Brock, up the central aisle and met the groom with his best man, Mr. Hughes Pressley, just in front of the altar. Rev. H. C. Fennell, who acted as officiant, pronounced the nuptial vows in a simple and impressive manner, and the "hymn of the wedding" was sung by the choir.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by friends from E. Horton and Misses Brock, Wakefield and Robertson with Messrs. Allen, Speer and Moorhead left for E. Horton, where an elegant reception was tendered them at the residence of Mr. C. C. Pressley that evening.

The wedding presents were numerous and beautiful. Mr. Pressley is one of the best men in the county. He is a popular, energetic and hard worker, and is loved by all who know him. Mrs. Pressley is one of the fairest and most beautiful of women, and with her bright, sunny disposition and attractive manners has won the hearts of all her friends. She will be duly missed in Lowndesville. The latter's loss is E. Horton's gain.

The newly married couple have the best wishes of friends now and did for a long and happy life.

Misses Mae Robertson, Annie B. Jaki and Lela Johnson are visiting in town.

Misses Eva Wakefield and Zula Brock returned yesterday after a pleasant stay in E. Horton.

Messrs. Moore and Walker visited friends in Greenwood Saturday and Sunday.

A Loving Tribute.

Mourn, Abbeville, mourn!

Another star has set.

A bright young life full of the grandest possibilities has been cut off before its possibility splendor.

In the prime of young manhood W. C. McLean has been taken.

Shall we ask why?

No, the still, small voice answers: "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter." Truly, God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform. The future was all that could be desired for this excellent young man.

Endowed with a fine intellect, handsome in form, and graceful in manner, he could sway his hearers with his matchless eloquence.

Almost on the verge of the grave, his last public speech, and said to be the crowning effort of his life, was in defence of a woman—holding up her honor and integrity in a grand and noble manner, when her character was assailed. His righteous soul was provoked at what he thought wicked insinuations against a slandered woman, who pens these words in grateful appreciation of the noble plea made by him in her defence.

In every conversation he measured me of his sympathy and declared, "I will stand by you to the end." Was not that prophetic?

Surely he proved his sincerity by his unselfish efforts, and by that warm hand clasp in my own home on the 16th of Feb., when he said again, "Never doubt me."

Mourn for him because of his friendship for me, and for his inherent worth; for surely he would have laid down his life in defence of principle and truth. His honor could not be bought with money. His convictions of duty were above price. But he is gone. Who will fill his place? Our county will miss him, our State will feel the loss, but above all the devoted wife and children, with a host of weeping friends.

"God knows the way; He holds the key; He guides me with unerring hand; Sometime with tearful eyes we'll see; Yes, there, up there, we'll understand."

Lowndesville, S. C., Feb. 25, 1898.

Edith Laddetter, colored, who was shot on the 4th Sunday in January by his cousin, Arthur Hagood, at John Hagood's, near Squire Jamison, died Monday last and an inquest was held yesterday. The jury found that deceased came to his death by gunshot wound in the hands of Arthur Hagood, but did not state whether the killing was felonious or accidental.

A Card of Thanks.

Editor Intelligencer: Please allow us space in your valuable paper to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness to our wife and mother throughout her long illness. C. F. JONES & CO.

Are now putting their best time, thought and attention to the selection of their Spring Stock!

And the goal of success which they hope to reach is to give their customers satisfaction and full value for their money. If we fall short of this we cannot feel that we have succeeded.

Our Mr. Jones, assisted by Miss Copper, is now in the Eastern markets. He went there to get the right things at the right prices, and will be satisfied with nothing short of that. In a very short time now our Stores will be blooming with pretty, fresh Spring Goods. Already we are showing a great many little articles in the shape of—

Percales, Cheviots, Gingham, Embroideries, Laces, &c.

Big lot Lace Curtains, just received. Also, a good line of Matting. These two items are always of interest to the Housekeepers.

While we are preparing for the Spring Trade we have not forgotten our Winter Stock, and try to reduce it at every opportunity. If you want Winter Goods for men, women or children come to see us. We had rather have the room than the Goods. Come to see us. Tell us what you want, and we will squeeze the price right down to the sticking notch.

One fact that we want to impress on your mind is, that Cash will go as far with us as any one. For us there is a peculiar fascination about selling for the cash. Cash transactions make and hold friends. Rake together your spare money, whether it be pennies or dollars, and come see how far they will go with us.

Best value possible for the money is what we try always to give.

Yours very truly,

C. F. JONES & CO.

NINE rich men in South Carolina out of every ten commenced life poor. They became rich by spending less than they made. No one gets rich who does not spend less than he makes. Any one will get rich who continually spends less than he makes. Every young man can and should save something each month or each year. The man who will not save a portion of a small salary or small earnings will not save a portion of a large salary or large earnings. The boy who saves something every month will be promoted before the boy who spends all he makes. True manhood is required in order to do any one thing well. It is weakness and folly to spend all regardless of the "rainy day." Industry, economy and integrity cause prosperity—not luck or good fortune.
